EVENT ENHANCEMENTS

The Museum is excited to offer your group opportunities to dig deeper into stories of the American Revolution through engagements with staff and replica objects. All enhancements are dependent upon staff availability and require at least 2 weeks' advance notice.

COSTUMED INTERPRETATION

$275 per interpreter (2 hours)

$100 for each additional hour

One or more Museum educators provide third-person costumed interpretation to explore the experiences of Revolutionary people of different backgrounds, including:

SAILOR

Whether working on a privateer ship or a navy vessel, people's or sailors' experiences on the water expanded their horizons, exposed them to new ideas, and taught them to work together despite their differences.

CIVILIAN

(male/female)

Americans of all backgrounds were impacted by and had an impact on life on the home front as well as on the battlefield.

SOLDIER

(British Light Infantryman, George Washington's Commander in Chief's Guard, Philadelphia Associator, Virginia Rifleman)

From the tops of their caps to the butts of their muskets, soldiers have lots of stories to tell about life in camp, on the march, and on the battlefield.

CAMP FOLLOWER

Hundreds of women and children shared life on the campaign by supporting troops of the Revolutionary War. Learn why they were there and what it meant to work and travel with the army as a nurse, laundress, or forager.

DISCOVERY CART

$175 per cart (2 hours)

$100 for each additional hour

Themed mobile stations featuring replica 18th-century artifacts and documents. Staffed by a museum educator who facilitates hands-on engagement interactions. Themes include:

CAMP FOLLOWERS

How did women and children support the army? Explore these objects to find out about their lives at camp and on the march, and the critical work they performed for armies on both sides of the Revolutionary War.

Objects include: a gridiron, tea canister, teapot, and brush

SOLDIER'S PACK

Explore the contents of a common soldier's pack and learn about daily life in the army, at camp, on the move, and in battle.

Objects include: a haversack, blanket, tools, and game pieces

ELIZABETH FREEMAN

Through replica objects and documents, learn about one woman's bold decision to sue for her freedom from slavery in Revolutionary-era Massachusetts. Did she win? What happened next?

Objects include: a dress, bracelet, and household tools

LOUIS COOK

What did it mean to be one of the highest ranking Native American officers in the Continental Army? Explore the replica artifacts and documents on this cart to find out, through the story of Akiatonharónkwen, also known as Louis Cook.

Objects include: a pipe tomahawk, beaded garters, and a uniform.
